

Play the thoroughbred of golf courses.

2008-2009 "Best Places to Play" Recognition from *Golf Digest

The rolling green meadows of Kentucky have long been admired for their fabled horse farms. Set among this world-famous equine breeding ground is Griffin Gate Golf Club, complete with its own impressive bloodlines. Renowned architect Rees Jones, son of the revered Robert Trent Jones, sculpted this very fast track from the rolling hills of Kentucky bluegrass country. Griffin Gate Golf Club is set on the 250-acre Griffin Gate Marriott Resort & Spa that embodies the tradition of gracious Southern hospitality.

Griffin Gate Golf Club is one of Kentucky's finest and most challenging golf courses. The par 72 golf course is over 6,800 yards long. It features rolling greens, 65 sand traps and water challenges on 12 of 18 holes. Gaping bunkers guard every green and there are few flat putts.

Beginners and professionals alike seek out Griffin Gate Golf Club for its unique combination of stunning beauty and talent testing layout. For seven straight years, Griffin Gate Golf Club was home to the Senior PGA Tour. The course demands a thoroughbred approach to play, one where bold spirit and delicate agility are rewarded.
